All in all, Monmouth's reopening was a grand success, and the enterprising management be enterprising management as should be well rewarded for their efforts to please the public. The racing throughout was very good. Though only two favorites won, the finishes were exciting and closely somethed, and every one went home very much pleased with the day's sport.
>
> The new management has introduced several pleasing innovations. One is the setting apart of a part of the lawn into a narrow lane through which the horses go from the paddock to the track, passing out near the judges' stand. In this way every person on the stand has a perfect view of the pleasing one to the eye.

Truckman Libby Shot Dead at large gilt ball on the flagstaff over the judges' stand. When the horses go to the post the ball is hoisted. When the starters' flag drops an assistant presses a button, which conveys a current of electricity to the ball releasing it and thus telling the crowd in the stand that the races have started. The dropping of this ball is very accurate, and one can time the race without straining one's eyes for the timers' flag. An improvement, would be to have the ball strike a bell in its fall.

Seventy-eight bookmakers weighed in yesterday and waited to be arrested by the constables of the Law and Order League. None of these officers arrived, however, and the day passed without trouble. It is said, however, that several members of the League were at work obtaining evidence and that raids would be mado in the near future. It is to be hoped that these reports are not true.

Judge Morrow's withdrawal from the first race yesterday was due to the fact that the boat upon which he had taken passage from sheepshead got stuck in the mud on the way to the track. This delayed the Judge's ar-

The famous board of thirteen stewards has not yet been appointed. The decided tones in which newspapers expressed themselves regarding members of their staffs holding any such positions evidently changed the plans of the management. The stewards yesterday were Mesars. Philip Dwyer, John Hunter and James Galway. They did one good thing in calling up Mr. George Forbes, owner of Arab, which won the sixth race. Arab has shown such eccentric form that the stewards had to take a hand, and after questioning Mr. Forbes as to the horse's previous races, they referred the case to the tender consideration of the Board of Control. While investigating this case the Board may call Mr. Fred littlened before them. He may throw a great deal of light on Arab's last race at Sheepshead Bay and on many other races, notably that of Correction yesterday.

After Taral dismounted from Tournament yesterday he is said to have remarked that "Tournament was as game a horse as he ever rode." Every one knows that Taral is given to joking, but he should remember that some people may believe that he was speaking truthfully in respect to Tournament ran a wonderfully good race, but he never before got such a rousing as Taral gave him.
